State Elections
BILLIONAIRES BUYING ALBANY LAWMAKERS TO WIN NEW TAX BREAKS AND PROTECT OLD ONES

More and more New Yorkers are outraged over corruption and influence-pedaling in Albany, disgusted with a state government that seems to prioritize special deals for the wealthy and well-connected over the needs of regular people.

Dozens of Albany lawmakers and top officials have been arrested and prosecuted for criminal violations in recent years, but state government corruption has continued – including the “legal” corruption that’s caused by massive campaign contributions from individuals and corporations seeking special benefits from state government, or seeking to keep special benefits they’ve already got.

Over the past two election cycles, a small group of billionaires – most of them associated with hedge funds and private equity firms – have given millions of dollars in campaign cash to candidates, PACs and Super PACs seeking influence over lawmakers in Albany.

The amount of money is astounding.

We found that 17 billionaires and multi-millionaires gave $13,415,037 to four state-level committees favoring Republicans over Democrats in this year’s elections for the New York State Senate and Assembly.

These same donors gave a total of $24,503,161 in campaign contributions to New York State candidates and committees since 1999.

They’re not giving all this money for nothing. They want something in return: massive new tax breaks and protection of lucrative tax breaks they already enjoy.

PROTECTING THE “CARRIED INTEREST” LOOPHOLE IN NEW YORK

These hedge fund billionaires and their colleagues at hedge funds and private equity firms get billions of dollars in special tax breaks under the “carried interest loophole” – and they want to keep the loophole wide open.

Closing the loophole would save New York State government an estimated $3.7 billion per year [1] -- money that could go to fund local schools and hospitals, rebuild transit and transportation systems or pay for property tax relief for the hardest-pressed working families.
Hillary Clinton, Bernie Sanders and Donald Trump all agree on closing the loophole.

And state-level legislation here in New York to close the loophole has won broad support from legislators, newspaper editorial boards and even some of the millionaires who helped create the loophole in the first place.

But hedge fund billionaires are working at the federal and state level to keep it open by buying influence with lawmakers through PACs and Super PACs like “New Yorkers for A Balanced Albany” and “New Yorkers for Independent Action.”

And nine of these billionaires are leaders of the Managed Funds Association, the hedge fund trade group that lobbies to protect the carried interest loophole.

CREATING NEW MILLION-DOLLAR TAX BREAKS FOR THE WEALTHY

Many of these billionaires are also backing huge new state tax breaks for donations to private schools.

Controversial legislation supported by State Senate Republicans and opposed by most Democrats would provide million-dollar refundable tax credits for wealthy donors to elite private schools and privatized school networks – tax credits most New Yorkers can’t get, and a bigger benefit than any other category of charitable deduction.

The billionaire-driven effort to win new tax breaks hasn’t succeeded, but these Wall Street kingpins are pushing more and more cash into campaigns to get what they want.

Campaign cash from hedge fund billionaires shouldn’t be able to buy our elections – the votes of regular New Yorkers should determine who represents us.

Voters who care about democracy, economic fairness and ending corruption should know about the billionaires trying to buy this year’s state elections, particularly as these four PACs and Super PACs pile into hard-fought elections on Long Island, in the Hudson Valley, and across Upstate New York.

Special tax breaks for billionaires hurt efforts to fund the schools, hospitals, transportation and clean-water infrastructure that communities in New York need to grow and thrive.
And unfair tax breaks for hedge funds and private equity firms actually hurt the economy and cost Americans jobs.

Hedge Clippers has detailed how hedge fund and private equity takeover plays destroyed thousands of jobs on Long Island, across the Hudson Valley and in Upstate New York.

And now we’re showing that the very billionaires piling their money into this year’s state elections have

- Destroyed thousands of American manufacturing jobs
- Dodged their fair share of federal, state and local taxes
- Funded climate science denial while investing in dirty fossil fuels
- Pushed for cuts to antipoverty and safety net programs that serve millions of New Yorkers, including seniors and people with disabilities
- Exploded inequality and contributed to corruption in Albany

CAMPAIGN CASH SCORECARD

This paper will focus on campaign contributions and political manipulation by fifteen billionaires and multi-millionaire hedge fund and private equity managers from New York City, Dallas, Boston, Connecticut and Long Island now active in New York State elections: Lee Ainslie, Louis Bacon, Glenn Dubin, Sean Fieler, Joel Greenblatt, Roger Hertog, Carl Icahn, Paul Tudor Jones, Seth Klarman, Daniel Loeb, Thomas Mcinerney, Robert Niehaus, Larry Robbins, Julian Robertson, Paul Singer; and on Wal-Mart heir and heiress Jim & Alice Walton.

SMALL GROUP OF BILLIONAIRES GIVE OVER $13.4 MILLION TO FOUR PACS AND SUPER PACS TARGETING LEGISLATIVE RACES

These seventeen Wall Street investment managers and billionaires have given a total of $13,415,037 to four PACs and Super PACs known to be registered and active in this year’s state legislative elections through direct expenditures or transfers:

- “New Yorkers for A Balanced Albany”
- “New Yorkers for Independent Action”
- “New Yorkers for Putting Students First” and
- “New Yorkers for Putting Students First Independent Committee.”

LEADERS OF THE FIGHT TO PROTECT THE CARRIED INTEREST LOOPHOLE

The carried interest loophole provides billions of dollars in tax benefits to hedge fund and private equity managers. Nine of these big donors – Lee Ainslie, Louis Bacon, Glenn Dubin, Paul Tudor Jones, Seth Klarman, Daniel Loeb, Larry Robbins, Julian Robertson and Paul Singer – have seats on the Founders Council or are Sustaining Members of the Managed Funds Association, which lobbies to protect the loophole against efforts to close it.

WHO ARE THE HEDGE CLIPPERS?

Every day, the most unscrupulous hedge fund managers, private equity firms and Wall Street speculators impact the lives of Americans. They play an outsized role in our political process, our education system, and our economy. Hedge Clippers is a national campaign focused on unmasking the dark money schemes and strategies the billionaire elite uses to expand their wealth, consolidate power and obscure accountability for their misdeeds. Through hard-hitting research, war-room communications, aggressive direct action and robust digital engagement, Hedge Clippers unites working people, communities, racial justice organizations, grassroots activists, students and progressive policy leaders in a bold effort to expose and combat the greed-driven agenda that threatens basic fairness at all levels of American society.

The Hedge Clippers campaign includes leadership and collaborative contributions from labor unions, community groups, coalitions, digital activists and organizing networks around the country, including the Strong Economy for All Coalition, New York Communities for Change, Alliance for Quality Education, VOCAL-NY, Long Island Progressive Coalition and Citizen Action of New York; Make the Road New York and Make the Road Connecticut; New Jersey Communities United; the Alliance of Californians for Community Empowerment (ACCE) and Courage Campaign; the Grassroots Collaborative in Illinois; the Ohio Organizing Collaborative; ISAIAH in Minnesota; Organize Now in Florida; Rootstrikers, Every Voice, Color of Change, 350.org, Greenpeace, the ReFund America Project and United Students Against Sweatshops; the Center for Popular Democracy and the Working Families Party; the United Federation of Teachers and New York State United Teachers; the American Federation of Teachers, the National Education Association, and the Communication Workers of America.
